About This Community

There are buildings and then there is Wardman Tower. At the intersection of iconic architecture and modern luxury, occupying a prestigious place in the DC cityscape and finally available to a few select homeowners, the recently re-imagined Wardman Tower infuses modern design with subtle Parisian influences, abundant natural light, sweeping views, over two acres of lush grounds and spacious floorplans.

With the well-appointed interiors and grounds recently brought in line with its unforgettable façade, the result is a synergy of structural eminence, architectural vision and practical luxury unlike any other.

This address is synonymous with effortless grace and a life lived beautifully. Refined residences are complimented by abundant amenities and extraordinary consideration to even the smallest of details, all of which culminate in a luxurious sophistication perfectly suited for you.
