About This Community

Ingleside at Rock Creek is a not-for-profit, CARF-accredited Life Plan Community located on a serene 14-acre campus in Washington, DC. Here you will find amenities and comforts to support an engaged and fulfilling retirement lifestyle with opportunities to pursue your passions and create a remarkable life. Opportunities abound to pursue your passions in our state-of-the-art Center for Healthy Living; learn through continuing education classes and other community programs; make new friends; enjoy social programs; explore your creativity; and join neighbors for casual, yet elegant, dining that goes far beyond the typical retirement community menu. At Ingleside at Rock Creek, the choices are yours.
